Suffolk Downs developers have the traffic talk

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

The HYM Investment Group will be making an investment of hundreds of millions of dollars in the development of the 151-acre Suffolk Downs site and $50 million will be going toward investment for traffic flow on a local and regional level.

"This will have an impact on the regional traffic congestion," said Tom O'Brien, founding partner and managing director.

For expertise in the area of traffic and transportation, John Kennedy, Sr. principal with Vanasse Hangen Brustlin (VHB) Inc. and Doug Manz, HYM partner and director of development to explain the traffic study that they are currently working on. The officials met last Wednesday night with the Suffolk Downs Advisory Board and unveiled a long-awaited presentation on traffic and transportation issues.

On Oct. 24 The HYM Investment Group will be holding a community meeting at the Rumney Marsh Academy from 6-8 p.m. on traffic.

The traffic study will show the impact in 2028 and 2038.

It includes a proposed Route 1A reconstruction, Winthrop Avenue reconstruction, Route 16 and Route 1 interchange. Over thirty current intersections in this area, of which 17 of these presently exceed the state average for crash ratio.

"We're trying to address the bottle necks especially the areas where we are adding most of our traffic. I think Mass DOT will become

DeLeo hosts 21st annual women's health forum

By Kate Anslinger

The 21st Annual Women's Health Forum, hosted by

Speaker of the House Bob DeLeo, was held last Wednesday evening, Oct. 10, at the Neil Shapiro Center for Performing Arts and brought in over 30 participants and vendors. "This is my favorite event," said DeLeo. "We get to join together and talk about important health issues."

Going strong for 21 years, the annual health forum started out at the senior center, and has had many homes over the years, including the Gorman Fort Banks School and the Arthur T. Cummings School.

Dr. Astrid Weins, vice chair of the Board of Health (BoH), addressed the audience and shared the process in which the BoH tackles critical issues that affect the town as a Danielle Day and Caren Sekenski enjoyed learning about the Rumney Marsh Burial Ground on Saturday, Oct. 13, during a tour and discussion of the historic jewel on Butler Street. Several residents braved the rain to learn about the Colonial-era burial ground.

The Rumney Marsh Burial Ground Walking Tour

Photos & Story by Marianne Salza

The Rumney Marsh Burial Ground Renovation Committee presented a Guided Tour of the cemetery on Oct. 13, which included a scavenger hunt and refreshments at the Revere Society for Cultural and Historic Preservation for visitors to learn about the rich history of Revere.

"It's a great opportunity for us to come together," said Bob Upton, Chairperson of the Renovation Committee. "This fabulous committee is devoted to this historic cemetery. We're proud of those interred here."

Historian Jeff Pearlman led the tour, explaining how the surrounding area was formerly referred to as Rumney Marsh until 1739, when it became Chelsea. From 1846-1871, the land was known as North Chelsea. In 1871, it became the Town of Revere, and has been declared a city since 1915.

Renovation Committee guides also explained the symbolism of engravings, and how the art on headstones changed throughout the centuries.

"I've had a 60 year love affair with the City of Revere," Pearlman asserted. "Growing up, I wanted to know who the streets and schools were named after. The Rumney Marsh Burial Ground is a hidden jewel."

In 1748, Joshua Cheever bequeathed the land to the Town of Chelsea as a burial place, where bodies were re-located from tombs of a local church to The Rumney Marsh Burial Ground. The first interment on the land was recorded on February 6, 1693, for Mary Smith, an early tenant-farmer in the village of Winnisimmet.

want to keep Comcast, they have the ability to negotiate a little bit now," said Arrigo. "Anything we can do to save the residents money is a good thing and it's a good day when we can do that. We're excited about RCN coming in to the city of Revere."

Jeff Carlson, senior vice president and general manager, RCN Boston, and Thomas K. Steel Jr., vice president and regulatory counsel, represented RCN at the press conference.

"RCN is bringing the city of Revere an array of highly competitive telecom packages and we applaud the city for allowing a new choice for residents and businesses," said Carlson. "Our award-winning high-speed Internet, digital TV and phone service are second to none. RCN is also committed to becoming part of the Revere community by building an exclusive fiber infrastructure for municipal use."

As part of the cable license agreement, RCN is constructing an advanced fiber institutional network for the city's exclusive use that will connect schools, municipal buildings, and be used for certain public safety communications. This will fill the city's needs for video and data distribution long into the future.

RCN will also provide three HD channels for locally produced public, educational and governmental programming to bring signal quality to a level that Revere residents have come to expect for all programming.

RCN is in the process of installing their fiber network throughout the city and is currently available to 3,000 households. As more service is added and available every day, the service is expected to be city-wide over the next several months.

RevereCARES high school clubs tackle issues

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Great things happen when Revere High School teams up with RevereCARES and that's just what's happened with the Youth Health Leadership Council (YHLC) and the Power of Know Club.

The YHLC is made up of high school students interested in exploring issues affecting their peers and who are interested in advocating for a healthier community.

This year the YHLC is focusing efforts on areas like vaping, curbside textile recycling, a youth job rally at the State House and organizing a Self-Care Fair.

The Power of Know Club, which has 35 members, will also work on career readiness, mentoring financial literacy and tackling procrastination and community service.

Youth Coordinator Debora Guimares, with Revere CARES and stationed in Revere High School,

The said students are vaping in the classrooms as they are in many classrooms across the United States. They are working on the issue the neighboring communities of Chelsea, Saugus, and Winthrop through a shared grant.

"This is of high priority for the communities," Guimares said. "We're hoping to share videos and signs in the school. There are also some grants to hold workshops."

Right now there are 19 students involved with the YHLC because they are concerned about improving the lives of youth in Revere. They work at city jobs and at the farmer's market.

The number one concern for youth in Revere High School is drugs, they also talk about a students well-being, the pressure to do well, dealing with applying to college, dealing with financial challenges.

"Sometimes it can be overwhelming for them," she said. "Frequently I hear that a student is overwhelmed. That's why we are also focusing on the Self-Care Fair."

The fair will be held April 4, 2019.

All the students in both clubs are very focused on getting in to college. Some already have jobs or are working at internships.

To learn more about the Power of Know Club contact Debora Guimares, youth coordinator, at dguimaraes@partners.org

PARKWAY HOME IS RECIPIENT OF BEAUTIFUL HOME RECOGNITION

The Revere Beautification Committee (RBC) has presented its "Beautiful Home" award to Larry and Karen Thang whose lovely property is the recipient of this month's recognition.

The Thangs have lived in their home for two months and have beautified their property by hiring Michael D'Avanzo of "Lynnfield Landscaping Corp" who chose a variety of plantings for the area. These include wine and yellow hybrid mums, serbian spruce, baby blue spruce, Alberta spruce, and baby blue eye spruce. The different varieties of spruce coupled with the colorful mums result in a lovely pallet of colors and textures throughout the area.

The Revere Beautification Committee congratulates the Thangs on the lovely impression that their newly landscaped area conveys and urges all residents of the city to do likewise. For, as we all know, the end result is a better image of the Revere.

OVERNIGHT LANE AND RAMP CLOSURES ROUTE 1

The Massachusetts Department of Transportation (MassDOT) has announced there will be temporary overnight lane and ramp closures on Route 1 southbound beginning at 8 p.m., Friday Oct. 19 and lasting through 6 a.m.,

Larry and Karen Thang are the most recent recipients of the RBC's Beautiful Home Award.

Saturday Oct. 20. These traffic impacts are necessary to allow crews and contractors to safely and effectively conduct bridge paving operations on the Route 1 southbound over Lynn Street Bridge and the Route 1 southbound over the Northern Strand Community Trail Bridge.

During this time period the on and off ramp at Lynn Street will be closed intermittently, with affected traffic detoured to adjacent interchanges.

Signs, traffic control devices, and police details will be used to guide drivers through the work zone. MassDOT encourages drivers to reduce speed and allow for extra time through this area. All work is weather dependent and is subject to change without notice.

This work is being conducted as part of a $22 million pavement upgrade project on Route 1 in Chelsea, Malden, Revere, and Saugus that is expected to be completed in November 2018.

NORTHEAST METRO TECH TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Principal Carla Scuzzarella invites prospective students and families to attend Northeast Metro Tech's annual open house next month on Wednesday, Nov. 7 from 6-8:30 p.m. at Northeast Metro Tech, 100 Hemlock Road, Wakefield

Representatives from Northeast welcome families in the district to the school's open house for guided tours and live demonstrations. Prospective students will have the opportunity to ask questions, check out the different shops and learn more about all Northeast has to offer.

"We hope that students and their families will join us for this fun, informative event," Principal Scuzzarella said. "This is a great opportunity for members of our communities to learn more about Northeast and our diverse educational programs." Grade nine applications, which will be available at the Open House and online, are due March 1, with applications for 10th grade open on a space-available basis. For additional information, visit northeastmetrotech.com, or call the Admissions Office at 781-246-0810 ext. 1302. Northeast services the communities of Chelsea, Malden, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Revere, Saugus, Stoneham, Wakefield, Winchester, Winthrop, and Woburn.

Revere Councilor-at-Large Steve Morabito held his Fall Campaign Fundraiser for re-election on Oct. 11 at the Comfort Inn & Suites. Morabito has been a member of the City Council for five years, having served on numerous committees such as the Economic Development Sub-Committee. He has also served as the Council's vice president.

"It's been a pleasure to serve with him," said Council President Jessica Ann Giannino. "Steve has many accolades. During our time together there have been many accomplishments in the economic development in the city that Steve has overseen. Steve has an incredible work ethic."

Giannino described her friend as a patient man who is concerned with public safety, and has put in motions to help veterans save money, install smart LED sidewalks, and acquire new ballot equipment for the city.

"These last five years have been about helping people; putting the City first when making decisions," said Morabito. "I'm looking forward to working with the mayor and my colleagues in the future to give Revere more, to better us, and to make us prosper as a city. We're just getting started."

STUDY THE THREE BALLOT QUESTIONS

There are three questions on the ballot for the upcoming state election on Tuesday, November 6. The three are about as unrelated and disparate as one could imagine.

The first question asks voters to adopt a proposed new law that would require minimum staffing by nurses in every hospital in the state. We have to admit that when we started reading the full text of the very lengthy proposed new law, our eyes began to glaze over because of the use of terminology that may be common to doctors and nurses, but which means little to the rest of us.

However, what is clear is that those who proposed this question have a good idea of what they're doing.

We doubt there is anyone who would dispute that nursing care in hospitals is critical for patients. It also is beyond dispute that avoidable mistakes in hospital care are a leading cause of death of patients in even the best hospitals.

In our view, this ballot question comes down to a cost/benefit analysis: Is the added cost of minimum staffing for nurses (and by the way, no one really knows what that dollar figure might be) worth the undisputed benefits for patient care?

Question 2 seeks to amend the U.S. Constitution to limit the spending by corporate entities. The amendment is designed to overturn the Citizens United decision of the U.S. Supreme Court, which declared unconstitutional the limits imposed by Congress on campaign spending by corporations.

In deciding this question, voters would do well to recall the words of Louis Brandeis, "We can have democracy in this country, or we can have great wealth concentrated in the hands of a few, but we can't have both."

The only way to change Citizens United is to amend the Constitution -- a drastic measure, no doubt.

Question 3 seeks approval of an already-existing state law, that was approved by the legislature in 2016, that bans discrimination against transgender persons. The law has been working well and is endorsed by many groups and organizations, including the Mass. Police Chiefs Association. A "Yes" vote keeps in place the current law.

IT'S "LEAF PEEPING" TIME. THE WOODS ARE IN THEIR PRIME.

GUEST OP-ED

It's a busy time in a bustling city

By Mayor Brian Arrigo

Summer's end usually means that schedules fill up, daily tasks increase, and the pace of just about everything becomes a bit more hectic. In other words, there's lots going on.

Columbus Day usually marks the date that we Revere traditionalists declare summer over. And, here in our city, there's lots going on.

Two new arrivals in Revere will be most noticeable.

After years of public demand, Revere residents have a choice when it comes to cable television subscription: RCN is now available in certain sections of Revere and over the coming months will be fully available citywide. While Comcast has been a reliable provider of cable TV services over the years, RCN's arrival brings competition to the market, and competition always benefits consumers. A simple example the competition benefit: local access stations through the RCN network will be viewable in high definition. Soon, Comcast will provide a single local access station in HD, making Revere the first community in the state where Comcast has contractually agreed to provide a local access HD station.

Revere's second big arrival will be the new trash barrels. Heavy-duty, covered trash carts will be delivered to every residential property in the City in the upcoming weeks.

The trash carts are a primary element in the City's effort to combat rodent infestation.

Rodent control is just one objective of the City's new trash removal program. Indeed, the carts pose a formidable barrier to the rats who see Trash Day as a free banquet. But there are other benefits to a standard trash container policy. The trash carts program sets a uniformity that will expedite trash collection. Second, it assures that all trash is secured in a proper container. Third, it encourages people to amend their usual habits and reduce waste, reuse where possible, and recycle. And it discourages placement of trash from outside the City for free Revere curbside collection.

Trash disposal has become one of the most expensive and uncontrollable issues facing municipal governments across the country. For far too long, Revere has lagged behind the times in municipal trash collection. About 15 years ago the Revere City Council pondered a "barrels only" requirement as a step toward rodent control but settled on trash collection revisions that have proven inadequate to resist rodent infestation. Revere's current approach to trash collection is outdated, costly and environmentally unsound.

Since Revere pays a tonnage fee for trash disposal, taxpayers can benefit when we all reduce the amount of trash we place for collection.

Even with the new barrel program, Revere will continue to be one of the more generous communities in Massachusetts when it comes to trash collection; many municipalities charge an annual fee for barrels, or utilize a "Pay as you Throw" method, or don't provide curbside collection at all.

With over 16,000 residences in the city, it is inevitable that the new program might pose a level of inconvenience to some. Admittedly the new barrel program will require people to break old habits and develop new ones. Residents went through this transition years ago when the City adopted curbside recycling, but we all quickly adapted our trash disposal routines.

Some of the less noticeable but vital changes going on in our city include the addition of nearly $2 million in desperately-needed equipment upgrades for the Department of Public Works and Water Department. We've also added manpower to enhance their capacity to deal with the countless issues that fall within their control, from pothole repair to fixing broken water mains to maintaining our parks to street lighting to sanitation--and soon, snow removal.

We've boosted the ranks of our public safety force by adding 10 new police officers and seven new firefighters since January, and the plans for a new Point of Pines fire station are advancing.

Both commercial and residential is booming in our city, as more and more people and businesses recognize the benefit and the value of Revere's inimitable location. Our oceanfront will soon be the site of three new hotels, and Waterfront Square along Ocean Avenue--almost 15 years in the making--is nearing completion.

Meanwhile, the transformative development planned for the Suffolk Downs site is progressing. Next month, the City Council will consider the Planned Unit Development Master Plan, clearing the way for a unprecedented venture that will turn land long used as horse stables into a modern mixed-use neighborhood replete with shops, restaurants, and recreational open space.

I could go on. Sizable tracts of vacant and underused land such as the Wonderland site has been designated an "opportunity zone" and is loaded with potential for vibrant and inspired economic development. New property owners are remodeling homes and making our neighborhoods attractive. Our community is bustling with people who see Revere as a special place to live. It is. Yes, there's lots going on in Revere, and it's a great time for all of us to be part of it.

REVERE THROUGH THE YEARS

10 years ago October 15, 2008

The city rolled out its new computer system this week, bringing Revere city government out of the Dark Ages and into the 21st century.

Mayor Thomas Ambrosino and other city officials stated this week that the annual Columbus Day parade, which once again was a huge success this year, will return for next year. It had been rumored that this would be the last year for the parade.

HISTORIC PEOPLE BURIED IN THE RMBG:

The following are facts about the Rumney Marsh Burial Ground (RMBG).

- 7 veterans of Colonial Wars.
- 20 veterans of the Revolutionary War.
- 4 veterans of the War of 1812.
- 13 veterans of the Civil War.
- Dean Winthrop, Gov. Winthrop's son is buried here.
- Rev. Phillip Payson, hero from battle of Lexington is buried here. Reverend Payson was also known for his advocacy for separation of church and state during the writing of the constitution.

- Also, 16 slaves/former slaves are also buried here. Their graves are be unmarked but they are forever memorialized at RMBG.

Some additional facts about the RMBG and Revere:

- It is the resting place to 545 of Revere's earliest settlers
- The 3x2 wide wall was built as a WPA project from the 1930s.
- The inscriptions are facing west and bodies east towards the rising sun.

- The earliest record of white settlers in Revere are dated back to 1625.
- In 1739, Rumney Marsh was considered a part of Chelsea and became a part of North Chelsea in 1846. In 1871, the name was officially changed to Revere.

Styles and historically important motifs of RMBG:

Dark Slate, Marble, Limestone and Granite are the types of stones that are located in the burying ground. Winged skull motifs were prominent for much of 17th century gravestones, winged cherubs signify the styles of 18th century stones. Stylized floral borders/fruit and leaf motifs were popular from the 19th century on.

Samuel Sprague, a Chelsea native who gathered a group of citizens during the Revolutionary War to fight against the British.

"Slavery in America is almost as old as our nation," said Pearlman, who noted over a dozen unmarked graves of slaves buried in the cemetery. "The first slaves were transported to America in 1619, one year before the Pilgrims set foot in New England. Several dozen slaves arrived in Virginia to work on the tobacco plantations."

Mayor Brian Arrigo, who explored The Rumney Marsh Burial Ground with his 2-year-old son, Joseph, praised the Renovation Committee for their devotion to preserving the history of Revere for future generations.

"All the work that has been done creates a great environment for the community," Mayor Arrigo said. "When we look back at the incredible history of our community, it gives us a context of the region that we live in. I am forever grateful for the people who continue that legacy."

Save The Harbor/Save The Bay President to retire at year's end

Longtime Save the Harbor/Save the Bay President and Chief Executive Officer, Patty Foley, announced today that she will be stepping down from her role at the end of 2018. Foley has led the organization since 2000.

Save the Harbor/Save the Bay is best known for its stewardship of Boston Harbor, leading the successful transformation from a national disgrace to a source of recreational and economic opportunity and civic pride for all Bostonians and the region's residents, with the cleanest urban beaches in the nation.

During her tenure as President, Patty Foley has taken the organization to a new level of success and effectiveness. Over the past 18 years, Foley has increased membership from 500 to more than 5,000, grown the organization's budget from $150,000 to over $1 million per year and dramatically expanded Save the Harbor's free youth environmental education programs that have connected nearly 250,000 underserved youth and teens to Boston Harbor since their inception in 2002.

"Patty Foley is one of Boston's great treasures. Her unique leadership skills and political instincts have ensured that we protect and preserve one of our most valuable urban natural resources and put them to work as assets for the region's residents and communities," said Joseph Newman, Director of Government Affairs Massachusetts at National Grid, who will continue to serve as Save the Harbor Board Chair. "The Board and I look forward to celebrating Patty's legacy of accomplishments over the coming months and continuing the work we are already doing to plan for the next chapter of the Boston Harbor Success Story."

Since 1986, Save the Harbor has worked with residents, scientists, government at all levels, and the region's civic, corporate and community leaders to strengthen the region's waterfront neighborhoods and beachfront communities and improve the quality of life for the nearly 2 million people who live within a short ride or drive to Boston Harbor.

The success of Save the Harbor Save the Bay's environmental advocacy efforts spring from the organization's clear vision: to restore and protect, connect and share Boston Harbor, the waterfront, the region's public beaches and the harbor islands with Bostonians from every neighborhood and the region's residents alike, especially underserved kids and families.

Boston Mayor Martin J. Walsh, a committed supporter of Save the Harbor, Save the Bay stated, "I thank Patty Foley for her decades of work to improve and protect our harbor, while making it more accessible for our residents to enjoy," said Mayor Martin J. Walsh. "I wish Patty the best, and look forward to continuing the City of Boston's strong partnership with Save the Harbor/Save the Bay as we build on our vision to create a waterfront and harbor open for all."

"Patty has taught all of us that good policy requires good politics, and that the best way to 'Save the Harbor' is to 'Share the Harbor' with everyone," said Bruce Berman, Foley's husband, who will continue on as STH's Director of Strategy & Communications. "Under her leadership, we have given Boston Harbor back to the people, creating a new generation of stewards who understand the importance of these spectacular urban natural resources to all of us and our community."

Save the Harbor's free Youth Environmental Education Programs are the cornerstones of the organization's work to connect the region's young people and their families to Boston Harbor, our region's public beaches and the Boston Harbor Islands. During Foley's time at Save the Harbor, their free programs have connected nearly 250,000 youth, teens and their families to the resources they organization has worked tirelessly to restore and protect.

Foley is particularly proud of the work she has done to strengthen the City of Boston and improve the quality of life for residents of every neighborhood, for which she was honored as City Champion at the 2017 Henry L. Shattuck Awards.

"I love Boston and our spectacular harbor," said Foley. "I have truly enjoyed this opportunity to work with so many terrific people, including policy makers, civic and community leaders, and the region's businesses and foundations to achieve our shared mission and goals. You can be certain that I will continue to do all I can to ensure that Save the Harbor is well prepared to continue to be an important civic asset for the residents of every neighborhood in the City of Boston and the region's residents as well."

Longtime supporter, friend and former colleague, President and CEO of the Boston Foundation, Paul Grogan said, "The Boston Foundation is proud to have been there at the beginning when Save the Harbor started its work in 1986, and I have known Patty Foley personally since 1991, when we first worked together at LISC. Patty has a unique understanding of the importance of the Harbor to the urban landscape, and she leaves Save the Harbor well positioned to continue as a leading voice for public investment in clean water and as an advocate for healthy, active communities."

Save the Harbor/Save the Bay has retained Chuck Gordon of The New Kensington Group, Joannie Jaxtmer of Joanne Jaxtmer Consulting and Robin Jones of JStrategies, who work together as CJR Strategic Transition Partners to advise them on the transition and conduct the search for the new President and CEO. The organization will honor Patty Foley for her service to the organization, the City and the region's residents at a reception in late March of 2019.

Save the Harbor Save the Bay is a non-profit public interest Boston Harbor advocacy organization. We are made up of thousands of citizens, as well as scientists, and civic, corporate, cultural and community leaders whose shared mission is to restore and protect Boston Harbor, Massachusetts Bay, and the marine environment and share them with the public for everyone to enjoy.

whole. "I take my role on the board as seriously as I take my job," said Weins, who is an Associate Pathologist at the Brigham and Women's Hospital, as well as an Assistant Professor of Pathology at Harvard Medical School. "It's important to attend meetings and voice your concerns about health issues that affect the town. The board always dissects issues and uses evidence-based decision making."

WCVB-TV, Anchor and Medical Reporter, Emily Riemer, addressed the audience as the keynote speaker and weighed in on the importance of diet and exercise.

"Health is an evolution and changes day to day," said Riemer, who shared tips on how she manages to juggle life and health in her jam-packed schedule as a mother of three.

Having a broad background in exercise, Riemer, believes that exercise has the ability to make each and every one of us a better person and more capable of tackling our daily activities. "Health is a process, you have to trust yourself and trust your body," she said. "By making a commitment to eating healthy and exercising daily, you are not being selfish, but instead you are giving yourself additional energy so that you can give more of yourself in all aspects of your life."

WCVB-TV donated 200 smoke detectors for guests to take home, and Chief of the Fire Department Paul Flanagan, urged guests to keep detectors updated. "We will send a firefighter out to your house to make sure your detectors are up-to-date and installed correctly," he said.

more involved and we'll start to identify areas that are more regional that the state should be addressing in the next 15 to 20 years," said Manz.

"When we started on this project we assembled a team that would help work with us on transportation. John Kennedy and his company are who we went to," O'Brien said. "He's worked on every major transportation project you can think of. He thinks about things outside the box, he's thinking about the whole region and a series of improvements that might be made."

O'Brien said that they knew that they were going to have to spend a significant amount of capital including a significant amount of capital improvements offsite to make the flow work.

"We now know we have to spend $220 million on capital improvements onsite and offsite," Tom O'Brien said. "We've all worked on a lot of projects and that's a big number."

For example, all the water and sewer systems in the development have to be constructed since nothing exists there today.

"Of the $220 million, $50 million will be for offsite improvements that we have to make," Tom O'Brien said. "Everything you see tonight comes from numerous meetings with MassDOT, MBTA, Boston Transportation Authority, Mayor Brian Arrigo and Bob O'Brien, head of Revere's Economic Development and key stakeholders."

"Even after we'd added the people and development on site with the improvements we will make throughout the system we're improving the overall level of service of the roadways around the project and potentially the Blue Line as well," Tom O'Brien said. "Today many of these intersections are an F. We're taking the Fs and making them Cs and Ds."

"This is probably the largest traffic study ever done by a developer," said Manz. "Casino project that was originally planned at this site had 53 intersections. We're starting with some bad conditions like Route 1A that has a grading of an F. We also looked at blue line capacity, including maximum capacity, and the Blue Line is in really good shape."

With the $50 million being spent on 30 intersections that are being improved, the biggest beneficiary is the Route 1A corridor between just south of Boardman Street and up to Winthrop Avenue. A lane will be added in each direction and bring what is known as a super street from an FF rating to a CD.

"Our basic premise is to shift the traffic back to 1A," Manz said.

Tomasello Drive will be reconstructed to a city standard street. There will be a two-way raised cycle path along Winthrop Avenue and other areas throughout the site and the park. There also will be no loading docks on main street and there will also be shuttle busses. All will be maintained and funded by the developer. There will also be code updates to both train stations.

Kennedy continued and went into great detail about the traffic study. He started with the Route 1A corridor in East Boston near the Marriot Courtyard. A third lane will go all the way to Winthrop Avenue, there are areas for a fourth lane for turnaround or left turn. He said this would increase capacity from 2,100 to 3,300 vehicles per hour.

"This design is something that's never been done before in the state," Kennedy said.

There will be no left turn from Route 1A South to Broadman Street - vehicles will go straight down to the U-turn provided, make the upturn and head directly into Boardman. There will also be a pedestrian crossing.

The entire corridor will be coordinated with signals. There will be no direct left turn from Furlong to Route 1A south bound - there will be a jug handle for cars to come back.

"One of the best parts of the design is the on-ramp from Winthrop Avenue. Today traffic has to merge with two lanes coming from Route 1A southbound - under this design they enter and stay in their own lane," Kennedy said.

On Winthrop Avenue there will be a break in the median strip to let fire engines out without going down to North Shore Road and for making an uturn.

"We are trying to down play use of local streets," Kennedy said. "In our concern for neighborhood protection, we would like to see Harris Street as one-way from Revere Beach Parkway back one block - to eliminate traffic cutting through - we want to keep that traffic in the regional system."

Also coming in to play is Bell Circle and the feeder lanes into it, where improvements are being proposed. For this project, HYM officials are dealing with DCR, Mass Historic Commission, and MassDOT.

"We want to improve route 1A so people stay on Route 1A," Manz said. "These are the beginnings of long conversations about this."

"Why are we forcing regional traffic into a traffic circle," Kennedy asked about Bell Circle. "Make routes that allow through traffic to move through."

There will also be changes made to American Legion Highway which will have one lane added. There will also be a signalized crosswalk from the corner of the school property across the highway.

Timothy Moody, Sr.

Decorated Vietnam veteran, former employee of Stone & Webster

 Timothy R. Moody, Sr., formerly of Revere, died at his Wakefield residence on Monday, Oct. 8 following a long battle with metastatic cancer. He was 73 years old.

Born and raised in Augusta, Maine, he came to live in Revere over 50 years ago. In 2007, he and his family moved to Wakefield.

After serving with the U.S. Marine Corps for almost seven years in Vietnam, he was discharged as a sergeant (E-5). Timothy was the recipient of the Purple Heart and several other commendations and citations for his service to his country. As a result of the insidious injuries he sustained while in Vietnam, he was overcome with PTSD (Post-traumatic stress disorder.) Over the years, he struggled with the horrific cause and effects of this vile disease and was able to cope well. In fact, he decided to make a career change, returned to school and graduated from ITT Technical Institute with a degree in structural engineering. He secured a position as a structural engineer with Stone & Webster for almost 10 years.

Soon after he was diagnosed with cancer that became metastatic and ravaged his body, leaving him 100 pounds less in weight. Prior to his illness, he was an active member of the V.F.W. Motto Post #4524 of Revere. Timothy was an inspiration to all with the positive manner in which he dealt with his illnesses and subsequent disabilities. Always he maintained a deep and abiding love for his time with the U.S. Marines and the opportunity to serve his country.

He was the most beloved husband of 50 years to Antoinette "Ann" (Cali) Moody with whom he celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 6, at a dinner party with 50 close relatives surrounding them.

He was the cherished father of MaryRose Burrows and her husband, Brian of Epsom, N.H., Timothy R. Moody, Jr. and Dawn M. Moody and her fiancée, "Brazil," all of Malden; the most proud grandfather to 13: Joseph D., Ryan T., Kahla A., Brian Jr., Shawn M., Stephanie E., Brandon M., Jessica J., Christopher A., Sydney M., Anthony K., Kendall M. and Destiny M. He is also lovingly survived by five great-grandchildren: Lyndsey, Jacoby, Julianna, Carter and Hailey and by many nieces and nephews. He was the dear brother to Della Gray and her husband, Douglas of Lewiston, Maine, and Sharon True of Augusta, Maine.

Funeral arrangements were by the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals, Revere. Interment was private.

In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to the New England Center for Homeless Veterans, P.O. Box 845257, Boston, MA 02284-5257. For more information, please visit www.vertuccioandsmith.com.

Ruth Selvitella

Wonderful mother, grandmother, great grandmother and the rock of her family

Ruth (Tyler) Selvitella of Revere passed away on Oct. 10 at the age of 90.

Ruth was a wonderful mother, grandmother and great grandmother who was loved by all her family and friends. She was the rock of the family. She was an amazing cook, her family cherished all of the meals that were made for them with love. She will be deeply missed and remembered forever.

The beloved wife of the late Louis Selvitella, she was the loving mother of Sharon Oliver, Marsha Webb, Diane Regan and Louis Selvitella and his wife, Michiko.; dear sister of the late James and Herald Tyler and is also survived by nine grandchildren, four great grandchildren, many nieces, nephews and great nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were by the Paul Buonfiglio & Sons-Bruno Funeral Home, Revere. For guestbook please visit www.buonfiglio.com.

Louise DiBlasi

Quintessential lady with the social grace of a First Lady

Louise (Moschella) DiBlasi, a lifelong resident of Revere, passed away at the age of 96 on Oct. 3.

The beloved wife of 65 years to the late Maurice DiBlasi, she was the devoted mother of Marianne Ostrowski and her husband, Ronald of Townsend, Joyce DiBlasi and Maurine Fischer and her husband, Jerome, all of New Hampshire and Philip DiBlasi and his wife, Natasha of Bolton; dear sister of Carmine Moschella and his late wife, Audrey of Saugus, the late Mary Viscarello, Ralph Moschella, Gloria Gosslin, Samuel Moschella and his surviving wife, Gail of Florida, loving grandmother of Kristen DiBlasi, Erik Ostrowski and his wife, Ann, Mark Ostrowski and his wife, Shayne, Matthew Fischer and his wife, Diana and the adoring great-grandmother of Max, Jackson, Delilah, James, Colby and Grayson Ostrowski. Louise and Maurice had a love that was legendary and everyone admired this beautiful couple who danced happily and gracefully through life. She was the quintessential lady with the social grace of a First Lady. Anyone who visited her home could not escape without being treated to her homemade biscotti and coffee served in China cups. Louise's unparalleled eggplant, of which many had the recipe but just could not seem to duplicate in essence, was always served in an immaculate home.

Our family loved her strength, dignity, devotion to her children, humor, beauty, and the beauty she brought to our lives. Good job, Mom. We will always love and miss you.

Funeral arrangements were by the Paul Buonfiglio & Sons-Bruno Funeral Home, Revere. Interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery. For guestbook, please visit www.buonfiglio.com.

Grace 'Nancy' Mulligan

Longtime Revere resident and volunteer at hospice, food banks and at the Revere Library

Family and friends are invited to attend visiting hours today, Wednesday, Oct. 17, from 4 to 8 p.m. in the Vertuccio & Smith, Home for Funerals, 773 Broadway (Rte. 107) Revere for Grace M. "Nancy" (Seifried) Mulligan who passed away peacefully in her sleep at Solaris Healthcare, Port Charlotte, Fla., on Oct. 11, at 89 years of age. Her funeral will be conducted from the funeral home on Thursday, Oct. 18 at 9 a.m., followed by a Funeral Mass in the Immaculate Conception Church (Corner of Beach Street and Winthrop Avenue) Revere at 10 a.m. and will be immediately followed by interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Nancy was born and raised with her family in Roxbury before marrying Joseph M. Mulligan of Revere on July 17, 1955. They bought their family home in Revere in 1960 where they raised their two daughters, Nancy and Patricia.

For more than 50 years, Nancy attended Immaculate Conception Church of Revere with friends and family. During this time, she worked for Storer Damon and Lund Insurance Company as a secretary for 42 years. After she retired, she spent much of her time with family and volunteered much of her time with hospice, local food banks and the Revere Library. Some of her favorite pastimes were dining out, gardening, and reading her favorite novels.

Nancy was the widow of the late Joseph M. Mulligan, who passed in January of 1992; the cherished mother to Nancy Munroe and her husband, Robert B. Munroe of Port Charlotte Fla. and Patricia A. Kelcourse and her husband, Matthew W. Kelcourse of Newport News, Va.; the devoted grandmother of Meghan Munroe of Tallahassee, Fla., and Kylie Munroe of Gainesville, Fla. She was the beloved daughter of the late Mildred H. Seifried.

In Memoriam 1996 October 18 2018 22nd Year Anniversary AMBROSE "SONNY" FERRARI

*A million times I've needed you, a million times I've cried
If love could have saved you dear, You never would have died.
Things we feel most deeply are the hardest things to say
My dearest... I loved you in a very special way.*

If I could have one lifetime wish, one dream that could come true

*I'd pray to God with all my heart, for yesterday and you.
Your Endless Love,
Wife Barbara, Children & Grandchildren*

Local deacon Joe Belmonte lives life of service

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Joe Belmonte grew up around the St. Anthony of Padua church, he became an altar boy at eight years old, developed a strong faith which led him to a life of service – a teacher in the Revere Public Schools and a deacon at St. Anthony’s.

This year is the 50th Anniversary of the Restoration of the Permanent Diaconate and Deacon Joe has been an ordained minister of the Catholic church for 38 years.

Belmonte graduated from Boston College High School and attended St. John’s Seminary in Brighton and Boston State College for his master’s in education and CAGS in school administration.

“I decided after prayer and reflection that I might be too young,” he said. “I actually decided I’d like to be married. I met my lovely wife Barbara here at St Anthony’s. They had never known each other before.”

On their first date they went to the movies and saw “Gone with the Wind.”

Today Belmonte’s family includes son Joe Jr., daughter Kristen and son-in-law Alex.

“My father and mother were the biggest influence for prayer. My father used to tip his hat or make a cross on his forehead when we went by the church,” he said. “Indicating to me these was something special there.”

Although he was always drawn to religious vocation he didn’t become a priest. But decided to get into education, math and science. He taught at the Paul Revere School, the Garfield, the Beachmont.

His ministry has included work at the Essex County House of Correction/Middleton, nursing home, as director of the marriage preparation, baptisms, preaching during Saturday and Sunday masses, performing marriage ceremonies, renewal of marriage vows, works with Eucharistic ministers, lectors and working with those who would like to become a member of the Catholic Church.

“I looked up the priests here as role models,” Belmonte said.

While at Boston State he was invited to attend a meeting a deacons. Belmonte thought he might be too busy but he decided to go and had to wait until he became 35 years old. He found during his reading of the Bible that he kept coming across the same gospel message, “You have no chosen me, I have chosen you. I keep asking the question, why me Lord.” Belmonte said, adding he has had wonderful support from the priests and his family.

“She is an integral part of my ministry,” Belmonte said, adding they both worked on the marriage preparation classes at St. Anthony’s for 37 years. “To proclaim God’s word it ultimately what my mission is.”

WHITE COAT CEREMONY FOR RESIDENT NOELLE CARDARELLI

Revere resident Noelle Cardarelli received her “White Coat” during a recent ceremony at the University of Bridgeport in Connecticut. Cardarelli is in her 3rd year of Graduate School, where she is majoring in Naturopathic Medicine. Noelle graduated from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy in 2013, and is a member of Revere High School’s Class of 2009. She is the daughter of Joseph and Bethanne Cardarelli, and granddaughter of Nina Cardarelli and Mildred Vincent, all of Revere.

The State Racing Commission held a four-hour public hearing to discuss the application of Wonderland Dog Track for its 1979 racing dates. Many Revere residents turned out to voice opposition to Wonderland’s operations.

The City Council unanimously voted Monday night to request that Police Chief George Corbett reinstitute a Drug Patrol Unit within the department.

The city’s annual Columbus Day parade was held Sunday. A wreath was placed at the Columbus monument in front of St. Anthony’s Church by: Mayor George V. Colella; State Senator elect Francis Doris, who also is Commander of the Beachmont VFW Post; Rev. Joseph Veneto, pastor of St. Anthony’s Church; Charles Moschella of the local Knights of Columbus; and Thomas McDonald, senior vice commander of the state VFW.

POLICE NEWS

United States Attorney Andrew Lelling and Brian D. Boyle, Special Agent in Charge of the Drug Enforcement Administration, New England Division, made the announcement. Assistance was provided by the Salem Police Department. Assistant U.S. Attorney Alatheia E. Porter of Lelling’s Narcotics and Money Laundering Unit is prosecuting the case.

Arthur Schwartz, 58, of Everett, was charged with making a false 9-1-1 call.

DRIVING IMPAIRED...AGAIN

Police charged a Winthrop man with driving under the influence of drugs on Thursday, Oct. 11, and it was his third offense.

Around 6 p.m. on Oct. 11, police were called for a car stopped in the middle of the road by Beachmont Liquors. When police responded they found the car driving by very fast towards Short Beach weaving back and forth. The driver slowed down but wouldn’t stop for police. Finally, he came to a stop on Short Beach and was discovered to be intoxicated with some narcotic.

John Paul Leone, 60, of Winthrop, was charged with operating under the influence of drugs (3rd offense), negligent operation and failure to stop.

CHARGED IN FEDERAL COURT FOR FENTANYL

A Revere man was arrested last week and charged in federal court in Boston with distributing fentanyl.

Jassiel Ramirez, 23, was charged with one count of distribution of 40 grams or more of fentanyl. Ramirez appeared in federal court last week.

According to court documents, Ramirez distributed fentanyl in and around the Princeton Crossing apartment complex in Salem on Sept. 18 and 21.

The charge of distribution of 40 grams or more of fentanyl carries a minimum mandatory sentence of five years and up to 40 years in prison, at least four years of supervised release, and a fine of up to $5 million. Sentences are imposed by a federal district court judge based upon the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

PHONY CALLS

An Everett man has been charged with making false 9-1-1 calls this week after calling Revere 9-1-1 several times over the past weeks saying he had been shot.

On Tuesday, Oct. 9, the man made a call to police saying he had been shot in the area of Beach Street. It followed a pattern of the man calling to say he had been shot several times over the past two weeks. Police put together the case and charged him with the offense.

AN ANNUAL TRADITION ON REVERE BEACH

The Revere Beach Partnership (RBP), in collaboration with the State Police and Department of Conservation and Recreation, hosted the 4th Annual Great Pumpkin Dash on Oct. 14 on Revere Beach. Over 200 runners -- including children who ran in a one-mile race -- participated in the Revere Beach Fall Festival and 5K, racing up Revere Beach Boulevard in costume.

"It's a fundraiser for the Revere Beach Partnership, a non-profit organization in the city," said Rosette Cataldo, RBP vice president. "Our mission is to preserve the heritage of Revere Beach and to make sure it's a safe place for families to come."

The morning celebration featured a beer garden for the first time this year, and a pumpkin patch, donated by Kelly's Roast Beef. Families enjoyed decorating cookies and pumpkins, and playing soccer and Connect 4 on the sand.

TRAVELING THROUGH HISTORY

North Shore Philharmonic Orchestra embarks on 71st season

Lori McDermott of Chico, Calif. stopped in Revere to the Rumney Marsh Burial Ground on Oct. 16 to visit the 26 graves of her Pratt family relatives. Her favorite grave was that of Mary Pratt, her six-time grandmother, who coincidentally died on Oct. 16, 1777 at the age of 77. McDermott and her husband then traveled on the visit Slade's Mill, once owned by the Pratt family, and on to Chelsea and Prattville which also play into her family history.

Music Director Robert Lehmann returns from a six-month sabbatical leave to lead the North Shore Philharmonic Orchestra in its 71st concert season with a dynamic schedule filled with bold symphonies, stirring concerti, and much more.

Dr. Lehmann himself headlines the list of season soloists when he performs the Brahms Violin concerto in the Orchestra's first concert on November 18.

Dr. Lehmann's sabbatical leave was devoted to learning the concerto, considered by many to be among the top three such masterpieces in classical music history.

Along with Brahms' "first" the Orchestra will add a "7" in a nod to its 71st season when it plays Beethoven's Seventh Symphony also on the November program. Bella Bartok's Romanian Folk Dances rounds out the November 18 program.

During the holiday season, the NSPO will travel to St. Anthony's Church in Revere on December 2, and then St. Richard's Church in Danvers on December 9 to play two Christmas-themed concerts. Admission to both concerts is free but patrons are asked to bring a generous donation of non-perishable food to benefit local food pantries.

The NSPO's regular season resumes February 17, 2019 when trumpet soloist Joseph Foley plays the Hummel Trumpet concerto on a program that also features Dvorak's "Slavonic Dances" and Robert Shumann's Symphony No. 4.

The Orchestra's "Spring" Concert on April 14, 2019 features Dmitri Shostakovich Ninth Symphony, along with music of Haydn, Gounod, and Balcolm.

The regular season concerts are held in Swampscott High School Auditorium at 3 p.m. Tickets are $30 at the door, $25 for seniors and students, and children 12 and under are admitted free. A season subscription for all three concerts is available for the discounted price of $75. Complete ticket and concert information is available on the internet at www.nspo.org.

Music Director Robert Lehmann will conduct the North Shore Philharmonic Orchestra beginning Nov. 18 at Swampscott High School.

FIVE DECADES OF LOVE

On most evenings beautiful Italian music fills Lidia and Gino Mastromattei's Revere home. And, when their favorite song Ti Amo, (which translates to I love you) comes on, the pair gets lost in the moment twirling around in each other's arms.

Lidia and Gino met in Frosinone Italy in August of 1968 and within two months realized they wanted to spend the rest of their lives together. The couple married in October and moved to Queens, New York. Two years later in 1970, the family relocated to Revere where Lidia got a job at Brandano's Bakery while Gino worked in construction and landscaping.

Together the couple raised three children, Mario, Gina and Carlo. And are grandparents to Fiona, Celia, Gianna and Anthony.

Last Sunday, surrounded by family the Mastromattei's celebrated their love and their golden wedding anniversary at Antonia's on Revere Beach.

RHS FOOTBALL TAKES ON SOMERVILLE FRIDAY NIGHT

The Revere High football team will seek to get back on the winning track when coach Lou Ciatelli and his Patriots trek down the Parkway to Dilboy Field to take on Somerville Friday evening. The opening kick-off under the lights is set for 7:00.

Revere saw its three-game winning streak snapped this past Saturday afternoon on the gridiron at Blocksidge Field in Swampscott with a 27-7 loss to the Big Blue.

Swampscott opened the game with a long drive off the opening kickoff to grab a 6-0 lead, but the Patriots responded with a 70 yard drive of their own, capped by a run to pay dirt by halfback Lucas Barbosa.

The successful PAT kick by Rayan Riazi boosted Revere into a 7-6 lead, but the advantage proved short-lived in the face of a Swampscott squad that took control of the contest on both sides of the line of scrimmage.

"Swampscott is the best team we've faced this season," said Ciatelli, whose offense could muster only 10 plays and no first downs in the second half. "They have an outstanding line and excellent talent at the skill positions. They simply outplayed us."

Still, in addition to the opening drive, there were some highlights for the Patriots, most notably the strip-sack and fumble recovery by blitzing linebacker Cal Capozzi that thwarted a Swampscott scoring bid inside the Revere 10 and the fine punting of Riazi, which often pushed Swampscott back deep into its own territory.

"Rayan's punting was a weapon for us," said Ciatelli. "He flipped the field position in our favor throughout the game."

Despite the defeat, the Patriots still appear to be in good position to qualify for the post-season state football tournament. Revere presently is the sixth seed in its division. A victory Friday night at Somerville would enhance the Patriots' seeding and their chances to make a run in the post-season.

RHS GOLFERS END SEASON WITH VICTORY OVER EVERETT

The Revere High golf team wrapped up its 2018 season on a positive note with a 46.5-25.5 victory over Everett Monday afternoon on the Patriots' home course at Cedar Glen.

There were numerous highlights for the Patriots in the triumph. Senior Matthew Cravotta, playing at the No. 1 slot, birdied the fourth hole in a 5.5-3.5 loss to his Everett counterpart.

Senior Jillian Eaves played at No. 6 and concluded her high school golf career with her first tied match, 4.5-4.5. Other key contributors included junior Dante Raffa, who

BOXING'S BIGGEST STAGE

Bay State star Mark DeLuca set for his big bout at the Garden

By Cary Shuman

Mark DeLuca grew up in the South Shore so he understands the boxing history of the TD Garden.

"This is the biggest stage and I'm honored to be fighting at the Garden where legends like Marvin Hagler and Tony DeMarco and Joe DeNucci fought," says DeLuca, whose nickname is "The Bazooka."

DeLuca, a former U.S. Marine will be fighting in the TD Garden on Saturday, Oct. 20 in a show that is being promoted by Ken Casey, founder of the Dropkick Murphys. DeLuca is Murphy Boxing's biggest star.

DeLuca is well known among local boxing fans, including Chelsea City Councillor Calvin Brown, who was an amateur champion and considers DeLuca one of the rising stars in boxing and a world title contender.

"I'll be at ringside," said Brown, who rarely misses a big fight. "Mark is an exciting fighter who will have a ton of his supporters at the Garden. He always puts on a great show and the fans love his tenacity."

DeLuca (21-1-0, 13 KOs) has been training under the tutelage of Hector Bermudez at the Bayshore Athletic Club in Braintree. He just returned from California where he sparred with Demetrius Andrade, who will be fighting in the main event at the Garden.

Bazooka, 30, will be stepping in to the ring in a rematch against Walter Wright, who handed him the first loss of his career in a controversial 12-round decision.

"I'm going to try to revenge my defeat," said Bazooka, a three-time national junior champion.

Bazooka will carry his family's esteemed, pugilistic tradition in to the ring. His father, Mark DeLuca Sr., was a former amateur and professional boxer and Massachusetts state boxing commissioner who used to run the South Shore Police Athletic League gym in Quincy.

"My father used to take me to all the fights at venues like the Roxy in Boston and the Roseland Ballroom in Taunton," said Mark Jr. "He's been a great motivator for me throughout the years. My father did a lot for me, bringing me to the gyms and the fights.

When you become involved in sports at a young age, your parents have to be just as dedicated as their children are."

DeLuca, who is 5-foot-9, is hoping that a win at the Garden will move his closer to a shot at the world championship. "I'm happy where my career is right now. I'm progressing well, but we all want a world title shot."

He is expecting a lot of friends and neighbors to be in his corner at the Garden.

"I'm getting a lot of messages on Facebook inquiring about tickets to the fight," said DeLuca. "People love the atmosphere of the Garden and being in the city."

Travis Mazic Gambardella, a Revere native, will also be fighting on the undercard.

Mark 'The Bazooka' DeLuca lands a right hook on the competition during his most recent bout.

played at No. 2 and who tied his match as well. Dante's match highlight was a 15-foot birdie putt to earn the Patriots a point.

Juniors Michael Marchese and William Ly, playing at No. 3 and 4 respectively, also contributed to the win. Marchese parred the seventh hole in his effort that earned six points for the Patriots. Ly parred the difficult 220-yard, par 3 third hole, in his match in which he delivered 4.5 points for the Revere cause.

Sophomore Kyle Gove defeated his Everett rival, 5.5-3.5, in the winning effort.

The triumph enabled the Patriots to finish the 2018 season with a final mark of 4-8.

RHS GIRLS SOCCER DEFEATS TWO NEC FOES

The Revere High girls soccer team earned a pair of victories this past week.

Lady Patriot Carolina Bettero scored all three goals to lead the way for Revere in a 3-2 triumph over Gloucester. Midfielders Jackie Zapata, Doaa Halty, and Madeline Yanes all played key roles in the victory. RHS head coach Meg O'Donnell also lauded the solid defensive play of Luiza Gils, Ghizelane Guesser, Salma Boakdad, Alisson Guevara, and Isabella Cuello.

Keeper Camila Perez saw 20 shots, making 18 saves. "Camila has been solid in the goal for us all season," said O'Donnell.

The Lady Patriots also defeated Greater Lawrence, 6-0, in which senior Jackie Chavez scored her first varsity goal with an assist from Jackie Zapata.

Also reaching the back of the GL net for Revere were Luanna Barbosa, with an assist from Salma Boukdad; Isabella Cuello with her first varsity goal, assisted by Doaa Halty; and Ana Ferro and Carolina Bettero with one goal each.

Perez earned her first shout-out of the season.

"As we head into the last two weeks of the season, we're looking to stay in the win column," said O'Donnell. Revere was set to host Lynn Classical yesterday (Tuesday) and will entertain Lynn English tomorrow (Thursday) and Salem on Monday. The Lady Crimson Tide will make the short trek to Everett next Wednesday and conclude their season at home next Friday, October 26, against Malden.

RHS VOLLEYBALL TEAM SEEKING TOURNERY BERTH

The Revere High volleyball team is seeking to get back on the winning track after a pair of hard-fought losses this past week to Northeastern Conference rivals Beverly and Lynn Classical.

In the 3-0 (25-17, 25-15, 27-25) loss at Beverly last Tuesday, senior Kiana Napolitano made 37 digs and served three aces. Teammate Gries Kasofo also turned in a fine defensive effort with 25 digs and led the Lady Patriots with five assists.

Gabriella Rotondo made 12 digs and served three aces. Teammates Lilly DelloIacono, Lynzie Anderson, and William Arias Rodriguez all made valuable defensive contributions with 10 digs apiece.

In a 3-1 contest last Thursday at Classical, the Lady Patriots captured the first set, 25-23, but dropped the next three, 25-12, 25-14, and 25-23.

Emily DiGiulio paced the Revere attack with six kills.

Rotonda added three kills and made 27 digs. Napolitano was a demon on defense with 51 digs, while Kasofo pulled out 32 digs and dished out 10 assists.

Coach Lianne O'Hara and her crew, who stand at 8-5 on the season, need one more victory in their final five matches to punch their ticket for a Journey to the Tournery. The Lady Patriots were scheduled to host Lynn English yesterday (Tuesday) and will travel to Marblehead tomorrow (Thursday).

Next week they will trek to non-league foe Weston on Monday, entertain Beverly Tuesday, and host Medford on Thursday.

RHS GIRLS RUN AGAINST BEVERLY

The Revere High girls cross country team hosted Beverly, a perennial powerhouse in the Northeastern Conference, at the Belle Isle course on a very warm October Wednesday last week.

Although the Lady Patriots came up on the short end of the final score (which is cross country, is the long end), there were some bright spots for coach Katie Sinnott's squad.

Several freshman, Maajda Louaddi, Dianne Mancio, and Gabriela Mogavero, ran their best home course times.

"These improvements over time add up and these girls are running faster and faster each week," said Sinnott.

Scoring for Revere were the top five finishers, junior Erika Cheever, senior Leila Cescic, sophomore Soleil Yuong, senior Olivia Novoselsky, and freshman Carly Bennett.

The Lady Patriots were scheduled to run their final regular season meet today (Wednesday) against Marblehead and then will prepare for the Northeastern Conference Meet next Saturday, October 27.

Overall Results:
Revere = 48, Beverly = 15
Individual Results:
Erika Cheever - 7th overall, 21:50

Leila Cescic - 8th overall, 22:04
Soleil Yuong - 16th overall, 25:00

Olivia Novoselsky - 17th overall, 25:25
Carly Bennett - 19th overall, 26:15

Yulissa Santana Baez - 21st overall, 27:29
Gabrielle O'Brien - 25th overall, 27:58

Salome Gezehagn - 26th overall, 30:09
Maajda Louaddi - 28th overall, 32:07

Gabriela Mogavero - 27th overall, 32:07
Skyla McNamara - 29th overall, 32:53

Dianne Mancio - 30th overall, 33:06
Belma Mujic - 31st overall, 38:09

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY RUNS INTO STRONG BEVERLY

Although the Revere High boys cross country was out-matched by a powerful Beverly squad, RHS head coach Mike Flynn was pleased with the race run by his squad.

"Beverly once again is one of the top teams in the Northeastern Conference, but our guys ran a solid race," said Flynn.

Freshman Victor Pelatere was chief among the recipients of Flynn's plaudits for his sixth place effort in a time of 17:13, which represents the fastest clocking on the Belle Isle course by a Patriot this season.

Captain Jonathan Nushi was next for Revere, coming across in 12th place in 17:53. Fabio Tran ran a personal record (PR) of 17:58. Captain Scott Montefusco was the next Revere runner in 18:34, followed by Christian Madrid in 18:41, Antony Arias in 18:46, captain Cristian Acuna in 18:58, James Carpinelli in 19:08, Kevin Nguyen in 19:14, Sam Gonzalez in 20:47, Marco Cerbone in 20:58, Hassan Gliel in 22:16, Joe Arias in 25:01, and Wellan Sok in 26:53.

Flynn and his crew are set to wrap up their dual meet season today (Wednesday) at Marblehead and then will get ready for the Northeastern Conference Meet next Saturday, October 27.

RHS FIELD HOCKEY PLAYS WELL AGAINST TOP NEC TEAMS

Although the Revere High field hockey team came up on the short end of a pair of recent games against two of the top teams, Swampscott and Marblehead, in the Northeastern Conference, RHS head coach Brian Scata was pleased with her team's performance.

In the contest with Swampscott, which had defeated the Lady Patriots last year by a runaway score of 7-0, Revere battled the Lady Big Blue to a 0-0 deadlock through most of the game. It was not until the 29th minute that Swampscott broke the ice and then 10 minutes later added an insurance goal.

"The game was a nail-biter the entire time," said Scata. "The two teams carried the ball from one end of the field to the other all game. In years prior, even when I played for RHS, we never really stacked up very well against a team like this.

"Each and every member played the hardest I have ever seen during that game," continued Scata. "100% was given across the board and everyone played their position well. At the end of the game I said, 'This is a win,' because that was the hardest I have ever seen my team fight. I could not have asked for more from them."

A few nights later, the Lady Patriots took on a Marblehead squad that likewise has easily handled Revere in the past. However, the favored Lady Magicians managed only a 1-0 lead at the half. Marblehead scored two more goals after the intermission, but the Lady Patriots got one back when Joli Giuliano, assisted by Jenna Wells, rattled the backboard of the Marblehead net to close the gap to 3-1.

Although Marblehead added another goal for a final score of 4-1, Scata once again praised her team's effort, in particular the duo of Giuliano and Wells.

"Joli and Jenna have been our offensive leaders all season long, both scoring goals and having many assists. They are truly an asset to the team and kept the mentality of the game together as leaders both on and off the field," said Scata.

Scata and her crew were set to take on Peabody this past Monday and will host Haverhill today (Wednesday).

The Lady Patriots will entertain Saugus this Friday in a contest that will be highlighted by Senior Night festivities.

They will conclude their season next week with games at Malden on Tuesday and back home against Chelmsford next Friday.

SPOTLIGHT

Last week was full of typical events in the RevereTV studio. We welcomed many familiar faces, starting with Mohammed Mharthi, who was working on another video compilation of scenic photos. Mharthi will be back to finish this video which will then air on the RTV bulletin. Also on Monday, the community members of Youth to Christ recorded a new episode which can be viewed on channel 8.

The October episode of "Revere Senior News" has been recorded and can be found on YouTube and on channel 8 at its respective timeslot. Stephen Fielding and Morris Morris host this monthly program. This month, Fielding and Morris talk about senior benefits around the community.

Alexandra Coppola and Ashton DeRousi took advantage of the editing suites. Coppola is working on another short film project and will be back in the studio soon to complete this latest episode. DeRousi is also working on a short film project and will take some time over the next few weeks to continue editing.

MigranTeVe was able to record several episodes of their program on Friday. This group is known for conducting these marathon recording sessions in the studio. All episodes will be airing on RTV channel 8.

The RTV crew had their fair share of busy nights last week. Along with the usual governmental meetings, we also covered the latest Suffolk Downs Development meeting. This meeting will soon be posted on our YouTube page, but also plays on channel 9. RTV simulcasted the Revere High School football game vs. the Peabody Tanners with Peabody TV on Friday.

We would like to formally welcome our newest community member, Baudelaire Senatus, and also mention that memberships are free! If you are interested in any aspect of video production, head to RevereTV at 385 Broadway, Suite 203, or give us a call at 781-426-9498.

The Best Way to Reduce Wrinkles for Less Than 39¢ per Day: Dr. Sevinor's Wrinkle Solution

During my four decades as a plastic and reconstructive surgeon, there were thousands of baby boomers (population 75 million) as well as hundreds of millennials (population 83 million) who informed me that they were bombarded with skin care products and were confused as to what works and what doesn't work. Many of them expressed to me that several of their skin care products were nothing more than "hope in a bottle". They told me that they were getting older waiting to see results from their skin care regimen.

During those forty years, I always wanted to develop a skin care product that improves the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles within minutes. So it took me seven long years and 86 different formulations to finally give you the solution to improving wrinkles. The result is called Dr. Sevinor's wrinkle solution. When you get this product home, you will not need to wait two months, two weeks, or even two days to see improved results. You will see dramatic improvement in the appearance of your fine lines and wrinkles within two minutes!

Let's take a look at some results achieved in less than five minutes on men and women that used the product for the first time. You can achieve this instant gratification for less than 39 cents per day!

NEWS FROM AROUND THE REGION

ZBA REJECTS SPECIAL PERMIT FOR PROJECT

CHELSEA – A lot at the corner of Broadway and Clinton Street has sat empty for more than five years.

That site will remain undeveloped for the foreseeable future, as the Zoning Board of Appeals rejected a request for a special permit to build a four-story, 42-unit affordable apartment building at 1001-1005 Broadway on Tuesday night.

This coming just as the project cleared state environmental hurdles on Wednesday – seemingly all for naught.

The proposal was a partnership between the Traggorth Companies and The Neighborhood Developers (TND) to build 33 affordable and nine market rate one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments, along with 1,100 square feet of retail space.

Needing four votes out of five on the ZBA to garner the special permit to cover rear setback, parking, and maximum lot coverage issues, board members Henry Wilson and Arthur Arsenault voted against granting the permit.

The future of the site is up in the air, according to David Traggorth of the Traggorth Companies. During the hearing, Traggorth said the partnership with TND to provide affordable rental units was the only feasible plan for the site.

“We don’t have a project,” said Traggorth after the meeting. “We weren’t kidding. We have to assess our options.”

Previously, Traggorth and TND worked together to create the Box District, with Traggorth developing the Atlas Lofts project within that district.

During the public hearing, many of the usual suspects of residential development were brought up by residents, including traffic and size of the project.

But underlying the typical concerns was a larger debate about the need for affordable rate rental units versus affordable home ownership in the city. While there was a general consensus among all attending the hearing that the need for affordable housing is among the city’s greatest needs, there was a difference of opinion on how to go about achieving that goal.

“We’ve been hearing this conversation about what we are building in Chelsea for a while now,” said City Councillor-At-Large Roy Avellaneda. As a councillor, Avellaneda said he has been a big supporter of affordable housing, sponsoring the Community Preservation Act (CPA) and supporting inclusionary zoning.

But Avellaneda said the pendulum has swung too far in the city toward providing only affordable rate rental units, and not building any affordable units for ownership.

“I am asking the board to say no to this project because it is not an ownership project,” he said. “Every parcel where we build a rental project is another lost opportunity for home ownership in this city.”

In the past decade, there have been 3,500 affordable housing units built in the city, all of them rentals, Avellaneda said.

“Affordable home ownership is being forced out; we’ve built affordable rentals but nothing for affordable ownership,” he said. “If you get the message out that we want ownership, it’s going to happen.”

The councillor noted that at many city meetings, those who come out and participate in the community are homeowners and not renters. Avellaneda said the two districts in Chelsea with the highest voter turnout are the two with the highest rates of home ownership.

However, several people spoke of the efforts of TND to get renters involved in the community process, and that the greatest need for affordable units is for rental units.

Maria Belen Power, associate executive director of Chelsea community organization GreenRoots, said her group supported the Broadway project.

“Seventy-five percent of people who live in Chelsea are renters,” she said. “We need is what the developer is showing.”

City Manager Thomas Ambrosino also voiced his support, noting that in his three years in the city, he has heard from no other developer with a plan for the vacant lot.

“This proposal meets the most critical need in the city, which is affordable housing,” Ambrosino said. “The complaint I hear most often in my office is the lament of the lack of affordable housing, and it is mostly renters who are being displaced. Many of those renters are long-time Chelsea residents.”

“If you reject this, you are simply eliminating an affordable housing opportunity, and you are not providing an affordable housing ownership opportunity.”

The ZBA’s decision can be appealed in Superior Court or Land Court, according to John DePriest, the city’s director of planning and development.

RIBBON CUTTING HELD AT CLARK AVE. MIDDLE SCHOOL

CHELSEA – The cutting of the official ribbon on the Clark Avenue Middle School on Oct. 3 signaled the ceremonial opening of the school, but it also signaled the investment in the youth of Chelsea – an investment that community and state leaders said was deserved and overdue.

Supt. Mary Bourque welcomed dignitaries to the school the evening of Oct. 3 for tours and a celebration of a school that took six years to complete, and nearly 20 to plan.

“This is six years in the making,” said Bourque. “We have so many people to thank for this building...Most importantly, this community has invested in the next generation of leaders and we are proud of that.”

City Manager Tom Ambrosino thanked the abutters, who he said showed great patience while the City completed a two-phase, six-year planning/building project. In the end, he said the City promised a better neighborhood, and did deliver.

“I can’t think of anything more awful than being an abutter to a school building project, especially one that lasts three years in construction,” he said. “These neighbors put up with an awful lot. We asked they just have patience with us three years ago and they did. We promised them at the end they would have an investment in the neighborhood and they would have a building that would be the heart of the neighborhood and a municipal building they would be proud of...I think it’s easy to say the City and School Committee brought that promise to this neighborhood.”

The school building project began six years ago when the City started the planning and financial funding for the project. After a long process at the City and State level, construction began about three years ago. The first phase completed in Dec. 2016, with students moving in for January 2017. The second and final phase ended this past summer, with the entire school opening to students this school term. It was constructed on top of the site where the former Chelsea High School once sat – a building that was demolished in phases as part of the construction project.

The school cost around $53 million, and state School Building Authority (MSBA) Director Jack McCarthy noted that the state has paid about $36 million of that bill.

“I want to congratulate the leaders in Chelsea,” he said. “You created a great school and this was not an easy project. I knew it would be successful when I saw the team that had been assembled. I didn’t hear a lot about this project. When I don’t hear about a project, that’s a good thing.”

School Committee Chair Jeannette Velez said she has seen students at the Clark Avenue excited to come in and be able to access modern facilities. She said it’s important to have a new and up-to-date building to help students achieve.

“These are the students we are educating so they can come back and make our city even better,” she said.

The architects on the project were HMFH, which also designed the Burke Complex many years ago. The Owner’s Project Manager was Pinck & Co. and the Construction Manager W.T. Rich Company, Inc.

NEW PROGRAM TO PROMOTE SAFE STREETS

EVERETT – If Prescott Street is to be more inviting, then let such an effort start with painting the crosswalks red.

That’s just what happened on Sunday morning when volunteers from the street and volunteers from the NeighborWays organization got together to take their first action after several months of planning and recruiting on the street – which is a major cut-through for those going from Main Street to Air Force Road.

Mark Chase, the founder of NeighborWay and a Tufts University professor, said they have been working with and talking with neighbors on Prescott Street for several months about ways that could make the street a more pleasant pedestrian experience – while at the same time slowing down cars.

“It’s a very community-based effort,” he said. “We been working with people who live on the street to get them motivated to think of ways to make the street more friendly for walking. The idea is to make the street more comfortable and reduce problems encountered with getting around on foot, especially for things like walking a dog.”

Mayor Carlo DeMaria said the effort on Prescott fits into his larger vision for making Everett more pedestrian and public transit friendly. He encouraged more residents on the street to get involved.

“I want to thank all the residents and neighbors who helped paint the Prescott Street crosswalks,” he said. “You have shown our community how to make it safe for children to play and bicycle and give pedestrians priority over cars. This artwork provides connections between to the Northern Strand Community Trail, the Madeline English School, the Riverwalk, and recreational facilities.”

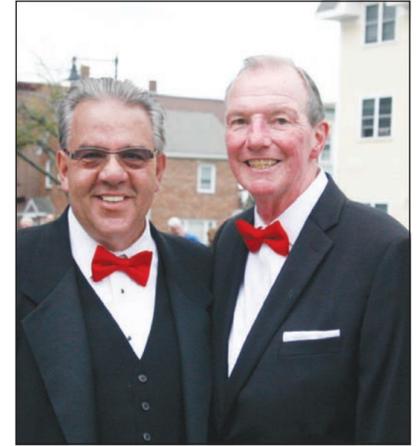

Chase said he is a transportation planning teacher at Tufts University and students came up with the idea to do such a thing about five years ago in Somerville, creating the concept of neighborhood greenways. Three years ago that idea became reality, and they also did other projects in Boston.

Now, they have turned to Everett, and Prescott Street is the first place they decided to focus upon. “Prescott Street is interesting because it connects with the Northern Strand Trail,” he said. “We have been planning for a while and having lemonade socials, but the crosswalks were our first action. The crosswalk idea is very cost effective and makes an impres-

A GREAT COLUMBUS DAY PARADE

On Sunday the Columbus Day Parade rolled through East Boston. The weather was perfect and the streets were lined with thousands of residents and spectators as the parade made its way from Suffolk Downs to Maverick Square. sion. It also motivates people to get involved. Once they see that kind of change, they might want to get involved.”

The effort on Sunday focused on the gateways to Prescott Street, mostly up by Main Street where so many cars bang a right or left to go down the street. Because it is wide and downhill, many people go about 25 to 35 mph, Chase said. The goal is to find ways to slow them down to about 20 mph or slower. The crosswalks grab their attention, he said, and it’s something they have learned has some effect.

As the winter rolls around, Chase said they will be working with the Art Department at the Madeline English School to come up with some public art projects for Prescott Street.

“I’m not sure what that would look like or be, but it’s a 30-foot wide street so there’s lots of extra space to do something interesting there,” he said. “The key will be having residents and kids find what they want to do and then work to get it done. Right now, this is going to be our winter planning project.”

Chase said the major focus of NeighborWays is to pick one street, and then encourage residents to take over the momentum of the planning. That’s because Chase said their purpose is to let residents, not NeighborWays, lead the effort.

“We try to encourage residents to take control of it so they are making these decisions about what they would like to see, and not us,” he said.

A long-term hope, Chase said, is to see Prescott Street have more park-like attributes such as trees or curb bump outs. Right now, he said, the idea is to get people on the street all rowing in the same direction.

MAYOR NOT TO PASS ON ADDITIONAL STATE FUNDS

EVERETT – Mayor Carlo DeMaria said the administration will not pass on $2.5 million in additional funds for the Everett Schools recently designated by the State Legislature to help cover the losses for funding formula flaws.

Instead, the mayor said they would retain the money in City accounts to help lower the tax rate for property owners. He pointed to the $6.5 million in additional monies already directed to the schools this year from the City during the budget process last June.

It was a similar action that was taken last year, and a move that partly inflamed the school budget showdown of last spring.

Typically, the money is designated by the legislature and sent to the City. The School Committee requests the money, and it is then passed on by the administration to the Council, who has the ultimate voting power to approve the matter.

In this case, DeMaria said he would not be passing the money on for a vote of the Council, which was expected to vote on the matter last night if it had been on the agenda, but it was not. The School Committee had officially voted to request the money on Oct. 1 at its meeting.

“The School Department was fully funded for their budget requests for this school year, with an additional $6.5 million in City funds above initial net school spending,” said the mayor. “In addition, last year, my office and the City Council provided $5.5 million in additional funds to the school budget to make up a projected shortfall. The $2.5 million provided to the City in the state supplemental budget will be used to replenish the municipal budget and reduce our residents’ tax burden.”

The announcement came late on Tuesday afternoon.

Earlier on Tuesday, Supt. Fred Foresteire said he hadn’t heard whether or not the mayor intended to pass the money on. However, he said he was concerned when he did not see the item on the City Council agenda for Tuesday night, Oct. 9.

“Sal DiDomenico got that for us and 11 other communities in the Commonwealth within the state’s Supplemental Budget,” said Foresteire. “The State Legislature approved money to these communities, including Everett, because they get hurt with the new formula for counting Economically Disadvantaged students...I just hope the mayor can find his way to take care of it. It goes right to the bringing back teachers and reducing class sizes. That's what it was intended for."

Late Tuesday afternoon, Sen. Sal DiDomenico said the money he secured was intended for Everett Schools. The same situation played out in Chelsea with the same appropriation. That money in Chelsea is now in the process of passing from the City to the School Department there, where it will bring back teachers, crossing guards and school librarians.

DiDomenico said the same should happen in Everett. "The purpose of this additional Chapter 70 funding was to be used for our public schools," he said. "I have been advocating for more resources for our schools since the state formula was adjusted, and we have been successful. By definition, Chapter 70 money is funding for our public schools and that was the expectation when these funds were secured."

Councilor Michael McLaughlin said on Tuesday that not having the item on the Council calendar was an indicator to him that the money was going to be held in City accounts again. He said he is one councilor who doesn't support that move.

"It's the schools' money, not the city's money," he said. "The bigger issue I have is we never gave the $6.5 million with the understanding or agreement that if we were to gain additional funding, we would go back to recoup some of that money. If that was the agreement at the beginning, that would be one thing, but it was clearly not the case...The mayor said we were in a financial spot to give $6.5 million dollars and that's what we did with no terms attached."

CRIME UP SLIGHTLY

EAST BOSTON - East Boston has experienced a slight uptick in Part One Crime through the first three quarters of 2018.

According to statistics released by the Boston Police that compares Jan. 1, 2017, through Sept. 30 2017, with the same time period for 2018 overall Part One Crime is up 7 percent in Eastie.

There were 34 more Part One Crimes reported when comparing the first three quarters of 2017 with the first three quarters of 2018. In total there have been 534 Part One Crimes in the neighborhood so far this year, compared to the 500 reported in 2017.

District A-7 Captain Kelly McCormick said at a recent community meeting that while he loves to take responsibility when crime is down he will also take responsibility for when crime is up.

With that said McCormick added that an increase in only a few Part One Crimes has been responsible for the seven percent increase.

"Our biggest increase is larcenies," said McCormick. "This is theft from stores and shoplifting in and around the Central Square and Maverick Square areas from places like Shaws and CVS."

By this point in 2017 there were 146 larcenies reported, but that number has jumped to 197 in 2018.

Community Officer Dan Simons said there was also an increase in robbery and attempted robberies. In 2017 there were 43 reports of robbery and attempted robberies. That number has jumped to 67 incidents so far for 2018.

"We also had no homicides in 2017 and this year we had that one homicide at Shore Plaza but no other major violent incidents. It was a very quiet summer."

In that case Jeremy Menedez, 29, was extradited from New Hampshire following his arrest and held without bail in connection with the shooting death of 29-year-old Taquise Johnson. Johnson's body was found in the open air garage below Shore Plaza on Border Street. Other than the increase in these crimes, both McCormick and Simons said that other crime has decreased.

Residential burglaries have dropped from 68 in 2017 to 55 in 2018 and there have been zero other burglaries in Eastie this year. Commercial burglaries dropped from 5 to 3 when comparing 2017 to 2018.

Larceny from a motor vehicle has also dropped from 87 incidents in 2017 to 71 in 2018 and auto theft dropped from 37 to 36.

Domestic aggravated assault has dropped from 33 to 31 while non-domestic aggravated assault has dropped from 64 to 60.

Rape or attempted rape was the same through the first three quarters of 2018 when compared to 2017 with 13 incidents.

Eastie seven percent increase in the third quarter is not unusual. With three months left in the year police expect some of these numbers will even out. Statistically, Eastie is as safe, if not safer, than South Boston whose resident saw a 10 percent increase in Part One Crime with 1,157 incidents reported so far this year. Three of those incidents were homicides. Southie also seems to be dealing with a huge increase in larcenies from a motor vehicle as well as auto theft.

TWEAKING THE PLAN AT SUFFOLK DOWNS

EAST BOSTON -Following a series of community Impact Advisory Group (AIG) meetings HYM Investment Group's Managing Partner Thomas O'Brien said his group has made some design changes to the Suffolk Downs proposal as it pertains to his group's vision for a 'gateway' square.

At a community-wide meeting at East Boston High School last week, O'Brien said the section near Suffolk Downs MBTA station that will be dubbed 'Belle Isle Square' has received considerable attention by both HYM and the community.

O'Brien said HYM has always had the vision that both Belle Isle Square and the opposite square on the Revere side of the parcel near Beachmont MBTA station would act as welcoming gateways for the surrounding community. The two squares would be connected by a mile-long boulevard that would include restaurants and shops.

After numerous meetings with the AIG O'Brien reported last week that HYM has made 'drastic changes' to overall design of the square.

"We basically changed this square drastically by moving one of the buildings over and widening the 'square' portion of Belle Isle Square," said O'Brien. "We had a building along the Wally Street/Waldemar Avenue section of the project. What we created I think is a more welcoming and festive Belle Isle Square. We think this current proposal is a far better design for that corner of the proposal. We did a lot of that work with a lot of people's input that are currently here at this meeting."

O'Brien added that he sees the retail opportunities in Belle Isle Square to include daycare, restaurants and coffee shops.

"These retail opportunities will extend down a one mile long corridor and connect the East Boston side of the project to Revere side at Beachmont," said O'Brien.

Another change O'Brien highlighted was along Waldemar Avenue.

Originally HYM proposed a row of townhouse-style homes that would line Waldemar. While it was a simple solution to make the 163-acre Suffolk Downs site part of the community rather than an isolated development, O'Brien thought his team could do more. O'Brien said Waldemar Avenue HYM's great connection to the East Boston neighborhood so HYM met with the community and tried to figure out ways to make this street another gateway into the site and connect it to the rest of the community. The plan, according to O'Brien, is to create the row of townhouses but break up the series of homes mid-block with a park. "Having this beautiful community open space in the middle of Waldemar Avenue we thought would really connect to Suffolk Downs site to the neighborhood and be a welcoming entrance into the site for neighborhood residents," said O'Brien. O'Brien said there would be neighborhood paths that would run through the park and connect to proposed bike paths and walkways on the Suffolk Downs site. "We want to create a real neighborhood street that complements the existing homes on Waldemar, the new Orient Heights Housing development project and out proposed green space," said O'Brien. It's been O'Brien and HYM's passion to make Suffolk Downs part of Eastie and not just another large-scale development. "There will also be a 200-foot buffer behind the Waldemar Avenue townhouses we are proposing as well as the existing homes on Waldemar," said O'Brien. "This will include pathways and bike paths that run behind Waldemar and act as a natural buffer between the residential neighborhood and the proposed building that are part of Phase I." In February, the Boston Planning and Development Agency (BPDA) recently approved HYM's Suffolk Downs Phase I proposal. Phase I of the Suffolk Downs project involves building on a 1 million square foot portion of the 161-acre site that would house Amazon offices close to the Suffolk Downs MBTA Blue Line station. For months HYM has been trying to make a small portion in the southeast corner of the 161-acre site "Amazon ready" if the Seattle-based Internet company decides to pick Boston and move its HQ here.

COUNCIL BACKS ORDINANCE TO CLEANUP ABANDONED PROPERTIES

LYNN - In an effort to clean up some properties the City Council voted to amend an ordinance regulating the maintenance of abandoned, foreclosed residential and commercial properties.

The ordinance acknowledges the number of foreclosed homes with banks and large real estate conglomerates having no connection to the community and the property they own.

During this time it is not unusual for code violations to take place.

"We seldom get cooperation from the banks, which are often out of state," said Michael Donovan, chief inspection services officer. "This allows us to fine them if the property is not being kept but the banks are generally good if we send them a bill."

One large property that came immediately to mind was the old Anthony's Hawthorne Restaurant. The landmark closed in 2003. Since then developers have come and gone. At one time the Athanas' planned on developing the site on their own.

Opened in 1937 by the late Anthony Athanas, the Hawthorne quickly became one of the most popular restaurants in Boston's suburbs. With waitresses dressed as pilgrims, doling out warm popovers and serving up steaks and lobsters, it was a destination for politicians and athletes. But in 2003, the Athanas family closed the Hawthorne and two years later, its founder — who also built Anthony's Pier 4 in Boston — died.

Code violations and other violations, unoccupied buildings, and others are susceptible to vandalism and/or open structures rendering them unsafe. Violations also include yards full of trash, unshoveled snow, overgrown grass and bushes and unsecured swimming pools. This ordinance seeks to rectify the situation.

The fine for failing to maintain your property is up to $300 a day.

REVERE FIRE HOLDS OPEN HOUSE AT THE CENTRAL FIRE STATION

Photos by Owen Carrigan

On Saturday, Oct. 13, the Revere Fire Department held an open house at the Central Fire Station at 400 Broadway in Revere. The open house was sponsored by Papa Gino's in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week.

Fire Chief Christopher Bright and Revere Mayor Brian Arrigo, with Joseph.

Revere Firefighters and Metro North Regional Emergency Communications Staff.

Michael Diorio, Sophia Leary, and Alyssa Diorio in Revere Engine 5.

Diana Reardon of Metro North Regional Emergency Communications Center and Kristopher Sarcia, with Revere Firefighter "Sparky."
